

Getting to BC Women's Hospital & Health Centre

---

Women's Health Centre includes the following clinics and programs:

- Access Clinic
- Asian Clinic
- Aurora Centre
- CARE
- Continence Clinic
- Early Pregnancy Assessment Clinic
- Fertility Clinic
- Heart Program
- Oak Tree Clinic
- Osteoporosis/Bone Density
- Reproductive Medicine

BC Women's Hospital includes the following clinics and programs:

- Diabetes Clinic
- Family Practice Maternity Service
- Fetal Diagnostic Service (FDS) Clinic
- Labour & Delivery
- Nutrition Clinic
- Obstetrical
- Physiotherapy
- Ultrasound

Taking the Canada Line skytrain to BC Women's

---

1. Take the Canada Line skytrain to King Edward Station (Cambie Street and King Edward Avenue).
2. Walk west on King Edward Avenue to Heather Street. Turn left (south) onto Heather Street.
3. Walk south along Heather Street to 29th Avenue. At the Heather Street Entrance, turn right onto the hospital/health centre site.
4. Walk straight ahead. You will see an overhead walkway with a sign "Women's Health Centre".
5. Enter the Women's Health Centre building.
6. To continue to BC Women's Hospital, take the elevators down to the first floor.
7. Coming out of the elevators, turn right and take the corridor on the left, watching signs overhead for BC Women's Hospital.
8. Continue walking down the long corridor past the first intersection, past the Brock Fahrni corridor on the left, until you reach an open area (informally referred to as "crossroads").
9. Take the farthest left corridor to reach BC Women's Hospital.
10. Take the elevators on the right for the maternity units, or turn left to get to the Registration Desk, Ambulatory Clinics, Tim Hortons, and Auxiliary Gift Shop.

Taking the bus to BC Women's

---

1. Take the #17 bus to Oak Street and Devonshire Crescent, stopping in front of BC Children's Hospital.
2. Enter BC Children's Hospital. Walk past the Safety Station/Gift Shop on your right and continue along the long corridor.
3. Continue walking down the corridor until you reach an open area (informally referred to as "crossroads").
4. For BC Women's Hospital, take your second right. Take the elevators on the right for the maternity units, or turn left to get to the Registration Desk, Ambulatory Clinics, Tim Hortons, and Auxiliary Gift Shop.
5. For Women's Health Centre, continue walking down the corridor on the second left, past Brock Fahrni on the right, and straight past the next intersection.
6. Continue along the corridor until you reach the elevators on your left.
7. Take the elevators up to the second floor. Coming out of the elevators, the Women's Health Centre is on the left.

MAP: BC Women's Hospital & Health Centre

